Welcome to Your LBC!

Thank you for joining us. 2019 promises to be an especially exciting year at Your LBC—besides the many terrific shows we have planned for you, this year is when we unveil the curtains to reveal major upgrades at Your LBC. By spring you will be enjoying pre-show and intermission in the Marcia and Gary Nelson Family Grand Plaza and riding the elevators to the second level. These major renovations, along with the ongoing improvements to the lobby, complete Phase Two of our Bridge to the Future renovation project.

We strive to offer a great variety of performances and the best service to our patrons. Please don’t hesitate to alert one of our front-of-house staff if there is something we can do to enhance your experience.

As always, on stage at Your LBC you will find many options to enjoy. A stimulating conversation with actor John Cusack or a rousing acoustic performance by Kip Moore. The legendary Buddy Guy’s electrifying music or the hilarious comedy of internet sensation Randy Rainbow. A musical celebration of Andrew Lloyd Webber, Elton John and Paul McCartney with Carlton Senior Living Symphony Pops and Music of the Knights, or the amazing dance moves of Derek Hough!

Please visit our website for the full line-up of great performances and be sure you are on our e-mail list to hear about new shows added throughout the year.

Your experience here is of paramount importance to us. With that in mind, soon you will notice new ticket scanners and several other improvements that contribute to the ease, safety and security of your time at LBC.

Even before the elevators are running or the central lobby doors open to the new plaza, we hope you visit the new Concierge Desk at the North end of the lobby—the central information point for everything you need to know about Your LBC.

Now sit back, relax, and enjoy the performance!

Supporting Our Community Through the Arts

The Press Democrat
As the exclusive beer partner for Your LBC, Columbia Distributing proudly serves the finest beer brands, including Lagunitas, Modelo, Coors, and Blue Moon, to LBC patrons in its beautifully-updated concession areas. Since 1935, Columbia has helped build some of the best known beverage brands while helping its community partners. Today Columbia services 22,000+ retail customers covering over 171,000 square miles in Oregon, Washington and California. Over 200 beverage companies rely on Columbia for distribution of their products.

Why a distributor?
The role of Columbia and other distributors is often confusing to the average consumer… “why don’t beverage makers just sell and market on their own?” Most do, but partnering with a distributor allows them to compete confidently against the big established brands. Distributors have the logistics, sales, and marketing capabilities that breweries, wineries and ciderhouses don’t. Columbia alone employs nearly 3,000 people who help their supplier partners build a name, establish a brand and generate a loyal following. Columbia ensures consumers have the most choices possible when they walk into their favorite bar, restaurant or grocery store.

It’s not just “a job” at Columbia
“We keep a very well-trained and happy workforce,” says Chris Steffanci, President and CEO at Columbia Distributing. The company takes extra effort to educate its team members with specialized beverage knowledge. For example, over 400 employees have completed the first level of Cicerone certification. Cicerone is a title not unlike the wine industry’s sommelier. As the variety and popularity of craft beer grows, so does the range of knowledge needed to properly serve and store each unique style. Training on the various beer and wine styles, tastes and food pairings positions Columbia employees as consultants, not sales people.

Delivering more than beer
Columbia Distributing has also been recognized for playing an active role in the communities where it operates. Every year the company gives well over a half-million dollars to national and local nonprofits, including LBC. In fact, with the help of Columbia’s contribution and others in the community, the Luther Burbank Center was able to provide education through the arts to over 40,000 students in 2018!

“Lightfoot became a mentor for a long time. I think he probably still is to this day. I can’t think of any Gordon Lightfoot song I don’t like. Every time I hear a song of his, I wish it would last forever.” —Bob Dylan

After 55+ active years of hit song making and international album sales well into the multi-millions, renowned singer-songwriter and musician Gordon Lightfoot stops at Your LBC on his cross-country tour of the USA. It’s safe to say that esteemed singer-songwriter and musician Gordon Lightfoot resides with some very exclusive company atop the list of all-time greats. His song catalog is incredibly vast and includes such immortals as “Early Morning Rain,” “If You Could Read My Mind,” “Sundown,” “(That’s What You Get) For Lovin Me,” “Canadian Railroad Trilogy,” “Ribbon Of Darkness,” “Beautiful,” “Song For A Winter’s Night,” and “Rainy Day People” to name a few.

Featuring hits like “Carefree Highway,” “The Wreck of the Edmund Fitzgerald,” and “If You Could Read My Mind,” as well as deep album cuts for the die-hard fans, Lightfoot’s historic 50-plus-year career and 80 years of life will be woven together with personal anecdotes and behind-the-scenes stories.

Indeed, The Wood Brothers’ sixth outing, ‘One Drop of Truth,’ dives headfirst into a deep wellspring of sounds, styles and influences.

Whereas their previous outings have often followed a conceptual and sonic through-line, here the long-standing trio featuring brothers Oliver and Chris Wood along with Jano Rix treat each song as if it were its own short film. The plaintive, country-folk of the album’s opening track “River Takes The Town” gives way to the The Band-esque Americana soul of “Happiness Jones.” The wistful ballad “Strange As It Seems” floats on a cloud of stream of consciousness, standing in stark contrast to “Sky High”—a Saturday night barnburner built upon stinging slide guitar funk. “Seasick Emotions” is rife with turmoil, yet “Sparking Wine” is jaunty and carefree. The end result is undeniably The Wood Brothers’ most dynamic recording to date.
Tyler Henry is the star of E! Entertainment’s hit television show, Hollywood Medium, and for the first time, audiences will be treated to his new live show, “Life Lessons I’ve Learned From The Departed.”

This exclusive show will feature Tyler discussing his unique gift and how it affects his everyday life. This event also includes a multi-media video presentation, lecture, PLUS live readings, and audience Q&A.

Tyler Henry — The Hollywood Medium

For fans of John Cusack and High Fidelity, a visit to Championship Vinyl definitely would make a “top five” list.

The hit comedy “High Fidelity” is the story of record shop owner Rob Gordon (John Cusack) on a search for love (and the reasons behind his failed relationships) against a backdrop of over 70 songs spanning multiple decades and genres of music. With – or without – the help of his record store buddies Dick (Todd Louiso) and Barry (Jack Black’s breakout role), Rob revisits past relationships in hopes of figuring out where he has gone wrong.

Rotten Tomatoes has “High Fidelity” ranked #14 on the list of Best Romantic Comedies.

Now, join John Cusack for a screening of “High Fidelity” on the big screen followed by a LIVE conversation regarding his career and the making of the film. Fans will get the opportunity to experience a moderated discussion, with John answering audience questions, as well. A limited number of VIP seats will be available that include a post-show photo-op with John.

Featuring Tracee Ellis Ross, well-known actress, comedian, television host and a social advocate for equity. She uses her voice and vast social influence as an advocate for joy, self-acceptance and inclusivity.

She is also a volunteer intent on making a difference in the lives of teenage girls. She is currently starring in Black-ish, ABC’s critically acclaimed comedy series.

American Folk Legend Arlo Guthrie attained international attention at age 19 by recounting the true events of his arrest (for littering) on the album Alice’s Restaurant in 1967.

Alice’s Restaurant achieved platinum status and was made into a movie in 1969, in which Arlo played himself. 1969 also brought Arlo to the rock festival of the ages, Woodstock, where he showcased his hit “Coming into Los Angeles.” Arlo’s most notable work is his definitive version of the song “The City of New Orleans” that was a hit on all major charts. After almost 60 years of shows, Arlo Guthrie remains a road warrior touring almost constantly. The legendary singer-songwriter will be joined by his daughter Sarah Lee Guthrie.

This special double-bill honors the legacy of the enormously influential Canadian group, whose mix of country, rock, blues, and soul earned them a 1994 induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

In celebration of the 50th Anniversary of The Band, two of today’s defining American roots groups join in an evening of their own songs and a special tribute to Music from Big Pink and The Band.

Eclectic octet The Dustbowl Revival blends folk-Americana and Stax-era soul into a genre-hopping, time-bending dance party. With strings, brass, dueling vocals and more, the winners of “Best Live Band” by L.A. Weekly exemplify everything shows should be: “hot, spontaneous, engaging and, best of all, a pleasure to hear.”

Joining them is Austin-based trio Hot Club of Cowtown, which delivers hot jazz and Western swing light and tight, like tumbleweeds made of velvet. Inspired by European hot jazz and vintage American roots music, these Texas Western Swing Hall of Famers have shared stages with Bob Dylan, Willie Nelson, and Roxy Music. Hitch your wagon and enjoy this freewheeling, foot-stomping frenzy!
Having built his 30-plus year career on the strength of his material alone, Brian’s non-stop theater tour continuously fills the most beautiful venues across North America, visiting close to 100 cities each year.

Brian made a scene-stealing cameo in Chris Rock’s film, Top Five, and he was a guest on Seinfeld’s Comedians in Cars Getting Coffee, which is now streaming on Netflix. Brian premiered his seventh hour of comedy, the Netflix special, Brian Regan: Nunchucks And Flamethrowers, on November 21, 2017. This is the first special in a two-special deal with Netflix, joining Brian with Dave Chappelle, Chris Rock, Jerry Seinfeld, and others in multi-special deals with the leader in worldwide streaming. Brian’s second Netflix special is planned for release this year.

A regular on The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon, Brian is the rare guest who the show invites on for two segments: a performance segment and a segment on the couch to chat with Jimmy. Previously, Brian was a regular guest on The Late Show with David Letterman, making 28 appearances on the CBS show.

Critics, fans, and fellow comedians agree: Brian Regan is one of the most respected comedians in the country with Vanity Fair calling Brian, “The funniest stand-up alive,” and Entertainment Weekly calling him, “Your favorite comedian’s favorite comedian.”

SLOWHEART garnered instant praise from critics as Moore’s “most complete, cohesive declaration of his artistic sensibilities yet” (NPR), as well landing on multiple “Best Of” lists including Entertainment Weekly, Rolling Stone, UpRoxx, Bobby Bones Show, Taste Of Country, Sounds Like Nashville, The Boot, PopMatters, and Whiskey Riff. SLOWHEART follows the acclaim that surrounded Moore’s sophomore album Wild Ones heralded as “an impressively singular release from Music Row” by The Guardian and his Platinum debut album Up All Night that spawned three No. 1 hit singles, including Gold certified “Beer Money,” Platinum certified “Hey Pretty Girl,” and the Double Platinum

Kip Moore’s current Top 20 single “Last Shot” is the second taken from his revered third studio album SLOWHEART and follows his fourth No. 1 hit “More Girls Like You.”
The all vocal country music sensation Home Free is bringing Nashville country standards and country-dipped pop hits.

The band comes to town on the heels of their most recent full-length album release, Timeless, bringing with them new music and new humor every night.

Home Free has become a household name, amassing more than 250-million YouTube views, and entertaining more than 350,000 people live in concert since bursting on to the national scene in 2013. The 5-man band has become known for their show-stopping performances that mix their signature no-instrument, all-vocal music with their quick-witted humor.

Their fourth studio album, Timeless, which was released on September 23, 2017 via Columbia Records and debuted at the No. 2 spot on the Billboard Country Albums Chart. This release marks the 4th consecutive top 5 Billboard debut for their album.

Audiences can expect new music and new stylings, plus country hits like Maren Morris’ "My Church", pop slams like Shakira’s "Try Everything," and fan favorite classics like the calypso-infused arrangement of Johnny Cash’s "Ring Of Fire."

At age 82, Buddy Guy is a Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee, a major influence on rock titans like Jimi Hendrix, Eric Clapton, and Stevie Ray Vaughan, a pioneer of Chicago’s fabled West Side sound, and a living link to the city’s halcyon days of electric blues. Buddy Guy has received 7 GRAMMY® Awards, a 2015 Lifetime Achievement GRAMMY® Award, 34 Blues Music Awards (the most any artist has received), the Billboard Magazine Century Award for distinguished artistic achievement, a Kennedy Center Honor, and the Presidential National Medal of Arts. Rolling Stone Magazine ranked him #23 in its "100 Greatest Guitarists of All Time."

The title of Buddy Guy’s latest album says it all: The Blues Is Alive and Well. The legendary blues artist’s eighteenth solo LP and follow-up to 2015’s Born to Play Guitar showcases his raw and unadulterated sound, its fifteen tracks a true pleasure for aficionados and genre newcomers alike. The album features pristine production without losing the signature lived-in grit that Guy’s been known for his entire career, from the low-slung riffage of "Bad Day" to the squealing solos of “Somebody Up There.” Guy sounds every bit as vital and youthful here as he did dating back to his early collaborations with the late Junior Wells, and it’s inspiring to hear a veteran artist laying down the blues with such gusto.

And even as Guy pushes forward with his astounding career, he’s careful not to forget his late contemporaries who inspired him along the way. "I went to sleep yesterday and woke up and all the great blues players are no longer with us. Muddy, Wolf, B.B.—they’re all gone. Before they passed away, when they were in their prime, we used to have a drink and a laugh and talk about how when one of us is gone, the others have to keep it going. I’m trying to do something to keep this music that I love so well alive." And with The Blues Is Alive and Well, it’s clear that the music—and Guy himself—ain’t going away anytime soon.
When you think of a wilting rose and a clock, candlestick, and teapot who talk... are you thinking of Beauty and the Beast?

The beautiful Belle finds herself in a spell-bound castle held captive by a beast... does she fall in love with the Beast before the last petal falls from the enchanted rose? Randy Rainbow Live

THU 4.18 7:30PM

He is the creator and star of the long-running BroadwayWorld.com web series Chewing the Scenery with Randy Rainbow and Last Minute with Randy Rainbow.

Comedian, singer, and actor Randy Rainbow will bring his hit national Randy Rainbow Live! theater tour to Your LBC on April 18, 2019. Fresh off the sold out first leg of this national tour, internet sensation Randy Rainbow’s series of political spoofs and song parodies have garnered international acclaim and over hundreds of millions of views, with Business Insider describing his work as “laugh out loud funny” and NBC News declaring him “hilarious.” Randy counts multiple celebrities as fans including Debra Messing, Ana Navarro, Barry Manilow, Rosie O’Donnell, Mark Hamill, Ron Perlman, and more. His video “Desperate Cheeto,” a parody of the hit song “Despacito,” has been viewed over 12 million times on Facebook alone, and his musical tribute to the first presidential debate of 2016 “Bragadocious!” received 28 million views in its first two days.
“I’ve lived a lot of life since my last record,” says Scotty McCreery.

“I moved out on my own, I traveled across the country and the world, I got engaged, I was dropped by my label, I was even robbed at gunpoint. So I really wanted this album to show who Scotty is at 24, what’s going on in my life, and I think we accomplished that.”

After winning Season Ten of American Idol in 2011, McCreery made history when he became the youngest male artist of any genre, and the first country music artist ever, to have his debut album enter at No. 1 on the Billboard Top 200 chart. Clear as Day was certified Platinum for sales of one million units in just 13 weeks and became the best-selling solo album released by a country artist in 2011. The singles “I Love You This Big” and “The Trouble with Girls” were also certified Platinum. He won the New Artist of the Year award at both the Academy of Country Music (ACM) Awards and the American Country Awards, and also received the CMT Award for Breakthrough Video of the Year for “The Trouble with Girls.”

With his third album (plus a chart-topping Christmas record), the young star takes a huge creative step forward. He co-wrote all 11 songs on Seasons Change, working with some of the finest songwriters in Nashville to express a wide range of emotions and musical styles. And after a lengthy legal struggle that kept him on the sidelines for several years, McCreery placed a bold bet with his career that has paid off with a new label and a reinvigorated attitude.

FRIENDS! The Musical Parody is the comedic musical that lovingly pokes fun at TV’s Friends, celebrating the adventures of your favorite group of 20-something friends as they navigate the pitfalls of work, life, and love in 1990s Manhattan.

It’s a typical day at New York’s only coffee shop, Central Perk, until an unexpected runaway bride enters the picture and kicks the whole gang out of second gear! The new musical recreates our favorite moments from all 10 years of Friends through an uncensored, fast-paced, music-filled romp.

Recommended for mature audiences.

Willie Nelson has earned every conceivable award as a musician and amassed reputable credentials as an author, actor, and activist. He continues to thrive as a relevant and progressive musical and cultural force. In recent years, he has delivered more than a dozen new album releases, again released a Top 10 New York Times’ bestsellers book, headlined Farm Aid, an event he co-founded in 1985, received his 5th degree black belt in Gong Kwon Yu Sul, headlined the annual Luck Reunion food and music festival at his ranch in Luck, TX during SXSW, launched his cannabis companies Willie’s Reserve and Willie’s Remedy, and graced the covers of Rolling Stone and AARP The Magazine.

He released two albums of newly recorded performances in 2017: God’s Problem Child, with 13 new songs that debuted at #1 on Billboard’s Country album chart and #10 on the Billboard 200, and Willie Nelson and The Boys (Willie’s Stash, Vol. 2), that includes 11 country classics and one brand-new song performed by Nelson and his sons Lukas and Micah. In 2018, he released Last Man Standing in April to celebrate his 85th birthday. It is comprised entirely of songs newly-penned by Nelson (and longtime collaborator and producer Buddy Cannon).

In September 2018, Nelson released My Way, a collection of newly recorded standards and classics originally made famous by Nelson’s close friend and musical colleague Frank Sinatra. These new songs and performances add to his classic catalog, and finds Willie Nelson rolling at a creative peak, writing and singing and playing with the seasoned wit and wisdom that comes from the road, which he still travels along performing for fans.

is a reason that we still remember songs from grade school teaching us things like the alphabet or even states!” says Ashleigh Worley, LBC’s Director of Education and Community Engagement. “Finding new ways to approach curriculum helps allow students who may not have a vested interest or who may struggle with learning a particular concept.”

Those who attend shows at Luther Burbank Center for the Arts may think its main mission is to bring musicians, comedians and theatrical performances to Santa Rosa. Yet through its arts education programs, the LBC connects with more than 40,000 students – from Sonoma, Marin, Napa, Mendocino and Lake counties – every year. In addition, LBC teams with the Kennedy Center to provide arts education professional development to teachers as well as residencies with highly-trained ‘teaching artists’ who use innovative strategies that engage students in new ways of learning.

Perhaps most exciting for the kids: LBC’s School Shows program brings students to LBC performances for youth such as Lewis & Clark: A Celebration of Teamwork. After the shows, students can ask questions of the professional actors, bridging the gap between actors on stage and kids in the audience. While on the surface these opportunities may feel like just another fun field trip to the student, the supplemental activities and thoughtfully chosen offerings tie in to curricular topics that allow for learning to happen without them even realizing it.

“I think any educator would agree that the very best teachers are lifelong learners who never stop looking for ways to get better at what they do,” Worley says. “Our residencies and professional development opportunities allow classroom teachers to continue to grow throughout their career. Using arts integration techniques is a wonderful way for students who might struggle to make that connection in the classroom to not only connect but engage.”

As part of the Education Through the Arts program at Your LBC, teaching artist Eddie Madril visits elementary school classes to share Native American traditions. He gets kids out of their seats, giving each student a small hoop – then Madril offers instruction in a basic dance.

The hands-on approach is a hit with his classes. “It’s better to learn by doing it than by reading in book or talking about it,” says one student in his workshop. This idea is at the heart of arts integrated education—it’s not merely arts instruction; it’s employing the arts to teach all sorts of subjects.

Bonnie Raines, a third-grade teacher at Santa Rosa Charter School for the Arts, says teaching history with dance and music allows her “to be more spontaneous.” And students remember lessons that involve the arts far longer than lessons conveyed in lectures.

“Studies prove time and time again that when you use art as a vehicle for learning, students remember it. There for North Bay school children that correspond to their classroom learning. For many children, this is their first time seeing a live performance.

- Serve 120 students with in-depth artist-led classroom instruction, through ARTISTS IN THE SCHOOLS WORKSHOPS.

- Operate a 450-piece INSTRUMENT LENDING LIBRARY called Music for Schools, allowing low-income students the opportunity to participate in their school’s band or orchestra program.

- Offer more than 1,100 hours of PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT opportunities for teachers, helping them learn how to integrate the arts into their core curriculum lessons.
LBC Arts & Education Fund

Make a gift to the LBC Arts & Education Fund and know that your donation is going directly to support programs benefiting more than 40,000 local children, and their teachers and parents.

Here are just a few examples of the impact these programs have each year:

- More than 450 musical instruments loaned through our Music for Schools library, enabling low-income students to participate in their school’s band or orchestra programs;
- Each summer, 150 underserved youth engage in creative self-expression and forge positive connections with their peers, families, and cultural heritage through Visual Arts Camp and Mariachi Camps;
- 17,000+ free and reduced-price tickets issued to low-income students, ensuring that they can attend performances along with the rest of their classmates — for many, it is their first time in a theatre;
- Dozens of teachers in Sonoma, Mendocino, Lake, Napa, and Marin counties integrate the arts into their classrooms, strengthening the learning of core subjects like math, science, and literature.

“Integrating the Arts into my classroom has made my students deeper thinkers. LBC’s excellent trainings are affecting the education of hundreds and hundreds of students each year.”

– Bonnie Raines, 3rd Grade Teacher, Santa Rosa

Our new Monthly Giving option lets you maximize your financial commitment with automatic monthly credit card payments. - $12.50 / MONTH | allows 20 students to attend a School Show
- $25 / MONTH | buys two instruments for the lending library
- $50 / MONTH | sends 10 teachers to a professional development workshop
- $100 / MONTH | refurbishes 125 instruments in the lending library
- $125 / MONTH | provides backpacks with art supplies for 50 campers

As a volunteer usher, Mark Walton is the face of the Center, taking tickets, helping patrons find their seats and welcoming all who attend a performance.

Whether it’s dance, popular music, the symphony or a theatrical performance, volunteer Mark Walton is constantly entertained by the diverse programming at the Center. “When I heard about the opportunity to volunteer here, I was excited. I’ve always been interested in music and live theater. My favorite part of volunteering at LBC is the people, the patrons, young and old, but especially the ushers and other staff that I work with.” LBC is honored to have Mark as one of their esteemed volunteers. In his spare time, Mark is also involved with the Roseland University Prep High School as a mentor, and he regularly works out and visits at the gym.

When asked about his best LBC moment, Mark replied, “I couldn’t possibly pick a favorite show or memory. My most recent favorite moment was seeing the huge smile of pride on a mother’s face after her daughter played violin on stage with Black Violin. She was beaming, telling me that her child was one of the musicians.”

Many of our volunteers find their time at the Center sparking new friendships and exposing them to new music and acts that they never would have seen otherwise. We’re happy they chose LBC as one of their cultural endeavors. If you happen to see Mark at a performance, be sure to join us in saying “Thank you!” for his years of dedicated service!

Your free time and special skills can make a tremendous difference in helping us to enrich, educate, and entertain our North Bay community. From ushering at a performance to working with students through our education programs, our 300-plus volunteers provide vital service to the Arts Center and bring the enrichment of the arts to our community.

For information on becoming a volunteer visit YourLBC.org/volunteer.
The Board of Directors of Luther Burbank Center for the Arts gratefully acknowledges the generous annual support of members, donors, and sponsors for gifts received as of December 31, 2018.

What is YOUR Legacy?

From where you sit, you can see your investment in the LBC directly and immediately. Your support makes it possible for us to create lasting memories while we enrich, educate and entertain our audiences. Thank you!

- What would you like your investment to look like years, or even decades, from now?
- Have you considered the LBC in your legacy plans?
- If you want to ensure that the LBC will continue here for future generations, consider naming the Center in your will or trust. Then, join the Lamona Johnson Walraven Legacy Society, and let us thank you now for your future investment.

To learn more, contact Robin Seltzer at 707.800.7525 or rseltzer@lutherburbankcenter.org.

Lamona Johnson Walraven, a longtime Santa Rosa resident, was a high school teacher and counselor who came of age at a time when most women did not pursue higher education. She earned a master’s degree from UC Berkeley, then shared her love for learning with her family and students, believing that all would thrive through the benefits of an education. Through her bequest, Lamona left a lasting impact on Luther Burbank Center for the Arts, with the largest legacy gift ever received, benefiting both girls and boys through her largesse.

Parking
Parking is available for persons with handicapped placards. Spaces are located just outside the Center's north and south entrances.

Service Animals
Certified service animals necessary to assist patrons with disabilities are welcome and must remain on a leash or harness at all times. Please contact the Patron & Member Services Office if you intend to bring a service animal to an event so appropriate seating can be reserved for you.

Please contact us by phone by 707.546.3600 to discuss any special needs you may have, so we can help make your experience exceptional.

BACKSTAGE
No one is allowed backstage prior to, during or after any performance without proper authorization and identification.

REFRESHMENTS
Concessions services are available one hour before show times and during intermission (please note: not all performances have a scheduled intermission). Food and beverages may be enjoyed in the lobby and balcony concessions area. Bottled water and beverages served in our Concert Cups (available for purchase at the Concessions stands in the lobby and balcony area) may be enjoyed in the theatre; all other food and beverages are prohibited in the theatre. A menu of offerings is included in this program.
CHILDREN
Luther Burbank Center for the Arts is committed to providing quality experiences for audience members of all ages. Our feature performances (generally with a 8 p.m. start time) are designed for adults; children under the age of five are not permitted. Our family events with afternoon and early evening start times are suited for children and recommended for children ages 3-12. Everyone entering the theatre, regardless of age, is required to have tickets. Lap passes are available for Family Fun Series performance for children under 2 years old. As a courtesy to all audience members, we ask parents and guardians to please remove children who may be disturbing others in the theatre.

THEATRE ETIQUETTE
Performances start promptly at their scheduled time. Please arrive with plenty of time to park and find your seat. Latecomers and those who leave their seats during a performance will be seated at the first appropriate pause in the program, as predetermined by house staff and performers. Please remember to silence all electronic devices before entering the theatre.

We ask that you be respectful of others and behave in an appropriate manner related to the performance you are attending. It is never permissible to stand in any aisle space. Usher and security representatives are available should you need assistance.

Patrons who engage in illegal activities, are intoxicated, or are otherwise disruptive (including heckling, public nudity, and smoking in non-designated areas) will be escorted from the property without refund. Shoes and shirts are required at all events.

SCENTS/PERFUMES
Many people are allergic to scents. Out of consideration for your fellow audience members, please refrain from using perfume and cologne.

Please see a house manager or volunteer usher if you have any concerns during a performance.
